WHO HAS SEEN AN INDIAN MAIDEN?

Strange Disappearance of Julia Stark.

COMPLEXION AN OLIVE TINT

FIVE FEET FOUR INCHES TALL AND WEIGHS 140 POUNDS.

Left Her Former Employer's Home Last Wednesday Afternoon and Since Then All Trace of Her Has Been Lost—Police Notified.

THE MISSING INDIAN GIRL

Age, 20 years.
Height, 5 feet 4 inches.
Weight, about 140 pounds.
Hair and eyes, black.
Complexion, olive tanned with pink.
Costume (when she departed from Mrs. Park's residence), black or dark blue skirt, light waist and white has trimmings with roses and wreathed with a white veil.

Miss Julia Stark, a half-breed Indian girl, said to be of an attractive type of brunet beauty, is being sought by Mrs. Mary Park's of 2039 Bell Avenue, who has invoked the aid of the police department in ascertaining her whereabouts.

The Indian maiden went to the Park residence last Wednesday morning from her home in Lincoln, I. T. The same afternoon she departed from the Park residence, saying she would return probably the same evening.

Mrs. Park's was not heard from her in the interval, though her trunk and other belongings remain at 2039 Bell Avenue.

"I feel rather like a guardian of the widow's mite," said Mrs. Park to the Post-Dispatch. "I wanted to help her, but I work as a servant. But she was such a good girl and I well behaved that I came to her."

"After living with me from last August to April, she went home to visit her mother in the Indian Territory. She returned last Wednesday morning, and told me that her mother would not have allowed her to come had it not been for the fact that she was going to return to the Park residence. She was so good that I knew that I had taken an interest in her."

"She had no place for her at that time as I had two girls, but that she might stay with me with the free of charge until I could find another place."

"She said that would be all right if she could find another place, but she would not leave the house that day and I haven't seen or heard of her since. I still have her trunk, and I am sure that something must have happened to her, as I feel sure she would let me know if she had found a place."

weather. There may be some floating clouds Monday afternoon, but they won't amount to much in the rain line. By Tuesday, however, it is likely that enough rain will fall to cool the air a bit.

Monday the mercury stood at the 64-degree mark at the hour of 7.

"Fair Monday and partly cloudy," is the sign on Dr. Hyatt's weather map.

Other noteworthy features of the map is a broad high over the Atlantic states and a low over northern Missouri and a portion of Nebraska.

FALSLEY ACCUSED, HE SAYS

Built for $2000 Damages Brought by

Lawyer Noland Against Police

Officials Is Being Tried.

Harry B. Hawes, Mathew Kiely, James H. Smith, John Bambrick and Warren Fox appeared Monday in Judge Talty's division of the circuit court as defendants in a $20,000 damage suit filed against them by Charles T. Noland, the attorney, who alleges that the defendants caused his illegal arrest and imprisonment in the District of Columbia.

The plaintiff's petition alleges that the parties named had, with malicious intent, arrested him, and that he was in the home of Long You, a Chinaman with whom Noland had been.

A charge of smoking opium was preferred against Noland. He was tried before Judge Sidener and discharged.

NICOLAUS TRIAL IS JUNE 5

Case of the Suburban Director Charged With Bribery Was Contested.

The case of Henry Nicolaus, the wealthy director for bribery, called for trial Monday in the criminal division of the Circuit Court, presided over by Judge Ryan, was continued to June 5, an application of the defendant.

Charles P. Johnson was originally retained by Mr. Nicolaus, but recently he engaged Mr. Nagel.

Mr. Nagel has notified Circuit Attorney Folk that, owing to the limited opportunity given him to familiarize himself with the case, he would not be able to defend the accused.

Charles McManus is also one of the counsel for the defense.

NEW TREATY WILL INCLUDE BRIBERY

Clayton Authorized to Negotiate Supplemental Measure With Mexico.

CHANCES EXTREMELY GOOD

TALK OF FORCE AND STRATEGY IS ALL NONSENSE.

Secretary Hay Has Agreed Upon a Plan, but It Is Being Kept a Secret—Desmond Will Return in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, May 12—It is known on best possible authority that on account of the attempts made to extradite Kratz and the failure to get him, the state department has instructed Ambassador Powell Clayton to negotiate a new and supplemental extradition treaty with Mexico to include bribery.

The action was taken after a consultation between Secretary Hay, Senators Cockrell and Culion and Circuit Attorney Folk of St. Louis. Investigation of the records show that all such treaties in the past have been retroactive.

In case a new treaty is negotiated and if Mexico does not specifically demand that it be retroactive it will furnish a method of returning Kratz to justice.

FOLK IS CONFIDENT.

While I do not desire to be understood as suggesting that there is no doubt as to Kratz ultimately being extradited or that the situation is free from difficulty, yet as it appears today the chances of his being brought back to Missouri are brighter than at any time since his flight.

The United States government I am satisfied will do all in its power to bring him within the jurisdiction of the Criminal Court of St. Louis. Just what action will be taken by the government as of my visit to Washington I am not at liberty to state. What is done will, of course, be through diplomatic channels.

Every lawful means will be used to insure the return of Kratz. While his exile in the United States has been a source of expense to the government, the cost of his confinement is a punishment to himself.

The action was taken after a consultation between Secretary Hay, Senators Cockrell and Culion and Circuit Attorney Folk of St. Louis. Investigation of the records show that all such treaties in the past have been retroactive.

In case a new treaty is negotiated and if Mexico does not specifically demand that it be retroactive it will furnish a method of returning Kratz to justice.

White House, Washington, May 12, 1902.

The right place for Kratz after years of official corruption is the Missouri penitentiary.

He will be landed there if within the ability of the State of Missouri and the United States to do so.

It may take time and patient perseverance to accomplish this, but the benefit to the people of this big municipal border being sent to the penitentiary, as an example to others, warrants all the trouble and labor necessary to bring about its consummation.

ISLANDS WHICH ARE BEING DECIMATED BY VOLCANIC FURY

The Island of St. Vincent is 1765 miles from New York.

It is only about half the size of Martinique.

It is 18 miles long and 11 miles wide.

Out of a population of 41,000 in 1891, there were only 3000 Europeans.

Kingstown, the capital, has a population of 4500.

It is on the southwestern part of the island.

La Soufrière, the volcano in eruption, is in the north of the island. It was last in eruption in 1812. Then entire island was covered with a rain of stones, ashes and lava.

The island was discovered by Columbus in 1498, but it has been a British possession since 1783.

Over half the population is African.

A range of densely wooded hills from 3000 to 4000 feet in height runs from the north to the south of the island.

The island is nearly a day's sail from Martinique.

Martinique is 1710 miles from New York.

It is 50 miles from St. Lucia, the nearest working cable station.

It is about 95 miles north of St. Vincent, where a volcano is in eruption.

Martinique is 60 miles from St. Pierre. Guadalupe is eight hours away.

St. Thomas is a day's sail distant; St. Kitts and Antigua 12 hours.

A fast steamer touches all the islands within 30 hours. From the top of Mount Misery, in St. Kitts, half a dozen of the islands may be seen.

St. Pierre was about the same size as Springfield, Mo.

It had 20 sugar factories and 118 rum distilleries.

It is 47 miles long and 15 miles wide at its widest point.

Port de France, the capital, has 17,574 inhabitants.

There are 1180 soldiers in Martinique, the equivalent in numbers to an American regiment.

There are 6900 more women on the island than men.

French is the language spoken by the inhabitants.

Collis Huntington's Sister.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Mrs. Mansfield Huntington, the widow of Collis P. Huntington, is dead at the home of Mrs. Huntington in this city. She came to this city and lived here a year ago from New York, N. Y., her home to spend a few months at the Huntington house. A month after she arrived here, she was taken ill.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, May 12.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Dominica says that our boats have just arrived from Grand Rivière, Martinique, with 61 refugees aboard, mostly laboring men, women and children.

They are in a pitiable condition.

They report that ten boats left the village, but it is not known what became of them. The sea in the channel between Dominica and Martinique, which is from 20 to 30 miles wide, was very boisterous and the wind was strong.

The arrivals report that the volcano is still very active and that its sphere of destruction has extended northward.

Considerable debris has gone ashore at Grand Bay, including broken furniture.

Another dispatch from St. Lucia says the royal mail steamer Esk, when five miles off Martinique, at 10 o'clock on the evening of May 9, whistled and sent 50 rockets.

She received no answer.

The whole sea front was blazing for miles.

The boat was sent ashore, but the crew could not land on account of the terrific heat, which was accompanied by loud explosions.

Not a living soul appeared, although the boat waited two hours.

Fire and ash fell all over the steamer.

The volcano on St. Vincent was in sympathetic eruption.

A steamer which left St. Vincent last night, reports that the northern third of the island is buried in ashes.

A continuous stream of lava is flowing, and ashes are falling in heavy showers 150 miles away.

Kingstown is safe, but great anxiety is felt for the remainder of the island.

Domina and St. Lucia have active geysers, but these have not yet shown any departure from their normal condition.

Foodstuffs of all kinds are urgently wanted.

BRIEF TALE OF TERROR.

Even the incomplete data at hand makes the disaster at St. Pierre, Island of Martinique, one of the most terrible in history. Following are some facts of importance:

Date of the great disaster May 8, 1902.

Loss of life (estimated) 40,000.

Vessel's lost 18.

Destruction wrought in three minutes.

Not one life saved in St. Pierre.

Water in harbor boiling hot.

Face of country changed.

Top of volcano blown away.

Road heard 200 miles.

Shock felt in Europe.

Day changed into night.

treasure buried beneath them was going on at the same time with the incineration of the dead.

The vaults of the bank of Martinique had been opened and all the securities, notes and cash were found intact. They were all secured and together with other treasure were brought to Fort de France.

MORE

ODOR OF BURNED FLESH EVERYWHERE.

The entire city and the neighborhood all about it reeks with a horrible odor of burned flesh.

In one instance an entire family of nine persons were found, all tightly locked in each other's arms, and the bodies in a horrible state of decomposition.

Almost the first thing done was to make preparations for the cremation of the dead.

At first the bodies were laid out in large numbers, small craters were in eruption.

Many rivers of lava were flowing seawards, one mile wide.

When we close to Georgetown we passed to the windward along the coast road.

St. Lucia and saw no sign of life. It is believed that the people who were in the disturbed area perished. The refugees at Georgetown and Belair are in danger.

Two Craters Pouring Out Lava, Boiling Mud and Ashes Over St. Vincent

ST. LUCIA, W. I., May 12.—Two craters on the British island of St. Vincent are emitting prodigious volumes of mud and lava and hot ashes. Out of a population of 41,000 in 1891, there were only 3000 Europeans.

ST. PIERRE HAS BEEN ANNIHILATED

PONT DE FRANCE, Martinique, May 12.—A relief party has been landed at St. Pierre and the work of removing the ruins has been begun.

Nothing could have been subjected to the deluge of lava and the sulphurous fumes and smoke.

Nothing remains, including the government vessel, Rubis, started from here yesterday for St. Pierre. They had on board a government delegate, a number of gendarmes, a detachment of regular infantry and several priests.

Large quantities of disinfectants and stocks of clothing for the refugees also were shipped.

The refugees had, as a rule, assembled at Le Carbet and Case Pilot, not far from St. Pierre, and it is reported, over 100 of them have died since the fearful stream of lava which poured down Mount Pelee.

The sea in which the steamer was covered with the wreckage of the vessels sunk off St. Pierre at the time of the disaster, and on shore all the trees were bent seaward by the force of the volcanic shower, were left standing.

The stench from the corpus-strewn streets was awful.

All the dead that ever seen were burnt asunder, their clothing apparently having burst from their bodies like so much kindling when they were roasting to death.

In many instances the faces of the victims are quite calm, as though they were stricken down instantly where they stood, without a moment's warning, or in bands time to appreciate for an instant the deadly peril they were in. Others have stamped on their faces an expression of indescribable terror.

NOT A TRACE OF STREETS IS SEEN.

The latest information received here is that the entire quarters of the fort of St. Pierre, covered thickly over with ashes, cinders and masses of mud and lava completely disappeared.

What horrible revelations of this havoc wrought to human life which these grim molds are yet to reveal can hardly be imagined.

In these two quarters of the fort there were streets that existed there can be no doubt.

Along the water front there are a few walls standing and the ruins of the customs house were found.

On the fort the faces and hands of the clock on the hospital were not destroyed and they furnished an important record in the history of this terrible catastrophe.

The hands of the clock had stopped precisely at 7:30, showing that it was within the fort and in its environs were destroyed.

At the last accounts from St. Pierre, the work of exploring the ruins for the volcano.

As quickly as possible, in the confusion, the government authorities and the mayor of the city, realizing what need there was, began to organize some system for carrying the dead to the sea.

A French cruiser, Bouchet, which happened to be lying in the harbor, became instantly active.

It was made ready for sea as quickly as possible, and started away at full speed.

April—in the Post-DISPATCH 35,983

The Post-Dispatch is the greatest want paper because it is the greatest home paper.

It looks as if the American voter will have to choose between his affection for the high-tariff theory and his love for beef.

Should St. Louis down the boudoirs and Missouri eliminate the lobbyists, what a record we could have to show to our world's Fair visitors!

It is very clear that Senator Aldrich takes no stock in the last utterances of President McKinley on the necessity of government ownership of railroads, the mergers may well note the fact.

FOR BETTER FIRE PROTECTION.

Fire Chief Swingley's report shows that during the past year the fire department has had to fight the most serious fires in its history. Ten members of the department lost their lives, and the money loss to the city amounted to nearly $3,000,000.

The chief makes some good suggestions for better protection against these tremendous losses. He recommends that the city put in an independent pipe line system for the downtown district, with a battery of pumps at the river front. This would insure a sufficiency of water and pressure in the district named. He asks for seven more engine houses, and that the location of fire alarm boxes be shown by having the domes of the nearest street lamps made of red glass.

These suggestions should be carefully considered. Everything possible should be done to decrease the danger to the firemen and the possible loss to the city from disastrous fires.

Especially in the way of precautions against fires, the city owes it to the firemen and the public to enforce existing laws and, if necessary, devise and enforce others. For example, if the law in regard to fire escapes were enforced universally, firemen would not have to rush into burning buildings so frequently. And if the law regarding building inspection were enforced, firemen would not be in so much danger of being crushed to death as they are now.

Only when every part of the city government co-operates harmoniously shall we be able to lower the fire record. The fire department should insist that laws tending to make its work less dangerous and more effective be enforced.

The duties on meat and poultry should be reduced or abolished. So long as there is a premium for food combining there is always a possibility for stiff prices.

POST OFFICE INCREASE

Having for some time urged that the postal clerks, letter carriers and railway mail clerks should receive better pay, the Post-Dispatch is pleased at the announcement that the clerks in the St. Louis postoffice are to get some benefit from this agitation. One hundred men are to be added to the force on July 1, which will permit of an eight-hour day. On the same date, the pay of each of 400 clerks will be increased $100 per annum, and the clerks appointed thereafter will begin at $600, instead of $400 a year.

This increase, it is said, is due to the increase in business owing to the approaching World's Fair. But it is to be hoped that it is a beginning in the necessary increase of pay for all postal clerks, carriers and railway mail clerks. The public favors this increase, and one of its results should be better service.

In St. Louis, the letter carriers' work has increased because of the filling up of vacant houses and the building of new ones, an account of the World's Fair. And this increase, we venture, is to be hoped that the application for additional carriers will receive prompt attention. It is neither just nor politic to overwork the letter carrier. The people expect good service and are willing to pay for it.

Senator Aldrich ought not to be bullied when his countrymen demand relief from the Beef Trust.

FINANCIERS AND POETS.

Rev. M. M. Mangasarian delivered a lecture in Chicago recently on "The Great Masterpieces in the Literary and Financial World," in the course of which he said:

"A great fortune, he said, is just as much a masterpiece as a great poem. There is room for comparison between the wizard of finance and the Titan of art. The money pit of a Rockefeller or of a Rothchild can be explained, but not the masterpieces by which Easchyn produced a Prometheus, Sophocles an Antigone, and Shakespeare a Hamlet. Moreover the millionaire has, the intellectual genius is. Being is always greater than having. The millionaire can be stripped of what he has, the genius never of what he is."

The distinction is radical and yet genius of a very high order is sometimes needed to work out difficult and complicated financial problems. In our time business is not mere buying and selling. It is a vast organization gradually perfecting itself through the effort of men who have that practical genius which, in other times and in widely different circumstances, displayed itself in Julius Caesar, Napoleon, William Pitt the elder, Warren Hastings and other great states makers. These men might have been makers of mergers in our day.

The fact is, there is no common measure of the poet and practical man. Shakespeare created Hamlet, Caesar created a political order which held the world together a thousand years, probably the best possible order in that troubled millennium. Which is the greater? They cannot be compared.

We have no poets, and the heroes of mergers may wait for appreciation until some poet with a larger vision comes to understand and justify them.

Every patriotic American in the states should write to his senators and ask them to vote for the admission of Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico.

EFFECTIVE MILK INSPECTION.

A short time ago the Post-Dispatch called attention to the fact that milk inspection in St. Louis, under present conditions, is a farce. Only a few samples of milk are examined, on occasional complaints of consumers or requests of dealers. An annual report, merely formal, is made by the inspector to the mayor. No prosecutions follow an analysis that proves adulteration or other violation of the law. In fact, the milk consumer has no protection. Any fraud in milk can be practiced with impunity.

Dr. Hellwig, the present milk inspector, gave as the reason for this state of things the fact that ordinance No. 18,407, providing for milk inspection, has been declared unconstitutional.

by the courts. Hence, he has no power to prosecute offenders. It is the duty of the Municipal Assembly to remedy this defect by the passage of an ordinance that shall be effective. How necessary this is may be seen by an examination of the report of the milk inspector who preceded Dr. Hellwig. This report, for the year 1895-96, showed that out of 812 specimens of milk analyzed, only 20 were found up to or above standard and free from adulteration.

Two hundred and fifty-six samples contained foreign adulterants. And including those skimmed until they were far below standard, there were no less than 226 samples in violation of the ordinance.

In making this report, Dr. Carter called attention to the fact that no prosecutions had been entered, because of the invalidity of the city ordinances under which the milk inspection department is operated. Yet, since then, the city lawmakers have not moved an inch towards making milk inspection effective. Why this apathy?

Hot weather will soon be upon us, and poor and adulterated milk will cause disease and death among children and delicate persons. A bill prepared by the Board of Health is now pending before the Municipal Assembly. The city authorities owe it to the public to enact a good law to prevent fraud in connection with one of the most important of food products.

The tragedy of Martinique grows in horror and is supplemented by another almost as vast and heart-rending on the island of St. Vincent. The surviving people of both islands are destitute and are in great danger of destruction from falling stones, sulphurous fumes and molten lavas. It is difficult and dangerous for rescuers to land and search for survivors. There is need of immediate relief upon a large scale. Warships of the United States, France and England have been ordered to the stricken islands, but the work of relief will probably be necessary for some time, as the devastated districts are swept clean of houses and vegetation. There should be no lack of relief funds in a tragedy so great in magnitude and pathos. France is supplying funds and the United States should not be behind hand in philanthropy.

TO OUST THE COMBINE.

The petition filed in the Supreme Court Friday by Attorney-General Crow asking that the companies composing the alleged Beef Trust be ousted of their franchise to do business in Missouri is another step in the fight against monopoly.

The evidence goes to show that monopoly is only one of the offenses of this combine. In one view it is the least. To raise prices arbitrarily is a great wrong, but to sell diseased food, thereby endangering the health and lives of the people, is an offense too serious to be condoned.

"The state of Missouri does not issue a charter to any corporation or individual empowering them to violate a state statute," says Mr. Crow. "The selling of diseased meat is made a felony in Missouri, and when the party possessing a state charter commits a felony, his charter to do business in the state is placed in jeopardy. The state of Missouri does not legalize the breaking of its own laws."

If the fact can be established that the parties to the combine have been selling diseased meat, the case against them will be much simplified and strengthened. It will be much easier to prove this fact than the fact of combination, which, though notorious, is often cunningly concealed from the eye of the law.

The attorney-general seems to have struck a propulsive lead.

That laid for him the golden egg.

WITH THE POST-DISPATCH
POET AND PHILOSOPHER.

CONCERNING FLATS.

I
O dweller in the dinky flat,
Howe, say'd ye be or sore,
Reserve that contemplated roar
Until you learn the prices that
Will rule in '04!
Consider, pray, where you'll be at,
When $5 or '6 per cent.
Is added to your monthly rent,
To go to make the owner fat!
And out in half your meager store!
Ah, yes, it may be even more,
For very, very little pity
Have landlords in a growing city.
Yea, to insure themselves a plenty,
They yet may charge you twice the twenty
Which now you pay—they are so greedy.
And have no mercy on the needy,
Or make it thirty-seven-fifty,
At least. Whatever rent you pay—
They are so miserly and thrifty—
They're more than likely, any day,
To cause you endless pain and trouble
By changing and calling double
For that invention of the devil—
It is satanic, on the level,
Designed to foster sin and wrath—
The little old "four rooms and bath."

II
O dweller in the dinky flat!
Your fate is hard, 'tis very true,
But watch and wait. Remember that Great things are yet in store for you.
Whatever goes up must come down,
However grasping Greed may frown.
A lemon once bereft of juice
Can never be of further use;
And so the man who pulls his leg
Will realize—too late to beg
For mercy—he has killed the goose
That laid for him the golden egg.

One of the hardest things in life is to be brief. Anybody can do it well, but it takes a great head to cut things short. Anybody can write a column. Only the initiated can write in ten lines. Millions of men have written books; few have written essays. Novels we have till we can't rest; short stories—how many? The Rev. Dr. Sixtus may draw a good salary, but the preacher who "holes it down" is not the man who draws the big houses. A man might write a quarto volume on this subject, but I will cut it short.

TEACHER ROOSEVELT'S BAD BOYS.
Bad Boy McLaurin has been fighting again. It seemed that he only got his hand in when he tried his muscle on Bad Boy Tillman a few weeks ago. Having just reproved Nels Miller and George Dewey for talking too much, and having just taken a left-handed slap at Whinny Schley for trying to get back his medal "For a Good Little Boy," which had been wrested from him by some of his rude playmates, Teacher Roosevelt, in order to keep his school from becoming thoroughly demoralized, was compelled to frown upon the conduct of Bad Boy McLaurin, albeit he was one of the teacher's pets, and he openly expressed his displeasure at the conduct of Bennie Tillman in bringing a pitchfork to school.

After these events the pupils of the Rough Rider School were orderly for awhile, but Bad Boy McLaurin broke loose again the other day after school had been dismissed for the day, and he "licked" a visiting boy from South Carolina who had said rough things about teacher. Then he ran to teacher and told him all about it, after the manner of teachers' pets, the world over, who yearn to solidify themselves at headquarters.

Teacher Roosevelt may have some naughty boys in his school, but he has them under good control.

SIR HIRAM MAXIM'S LETTER ABOUT WORLD'S FAIR AIRSHIPS. In the last Sunday Post-Dispatch, was highly interesting. The American people would like very much to meet Sir Hiram at the Exposition, the postponement of which may bring us the perfect airship.

IT IS A GOOD WORD.
The word "word," when used to express the condition of being offended or hurt, may not sound very elegant, but it has the sanction of good usage. Alexander Pope, who lived these many years ago, once said:

"She adds a dignity, an' then, she hides my gun, which are a bad example after them children. I don't approve of anybody under fourteen carryin' a gun."—Cincinnatus Inquirer.

ONCE A YEAR.

Up in the tenement district of St. Louis there is a mission school which on Sunday is attended by a large number of children of foreign parentage. Their command of the English tongue is somewhat limited and the teachers have some trouble in getting the right word from them.

One of the teachers, a bright young woman, who is the stenographer for one of the trust companies, believes in letting the children figure out the words for themselves. She would "think" of a word and then describe it as far as possible, and let the little ones guess it.

"Birthday" was the word she thought of going into the bottle, will be blown out onto the floor or into your face. This guess is due to the compression of the air blown into the bottle.

POWER OF LOVE.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch
I would like to say to the party who signed "Ambition" that ambition is but a poor substitute for love. Life is indeed beautiful when we truly love. It is not money or rank, but love, simple and pure, that makes life. The greatest power in the world is love. Its love is the end of all things worth living for, the perfection of character, the keynote of happiness. It is that unit that stands for peaceful home life. It will glorify its object like a dash of sunshine over the loveliness of spring. It lights up all the dark lonely stations on the road of life.

The man or woman who has never found this one essential ingredient to life has missed the sweetest thing in life. And the man or woman who has never found this one day or one hour can say, "I was superhumanly happy; I envied not the king on his golden throne, nor the duchess in her shining robes in heaven. My existence was complete." The cup I drank from was full to the brim, and when I had finished it, my pain and distaste left me satisfied, delighted through every fiber of my being. And come what may, though I may live a thousand years, suffer as I may, I can say I lived.

I want to say to "Ambition" seek love and not ambition. You will some day feel the need of intimate personal companionship, one of the most lovable of the human mind, which unsatisfies the mind but not the heart. Do not try to live without love. It is unnatural for all God's creatures, especially a woman. MRS. J. H. DALLAS.

HOME HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

HOW TO USE CELERY.
This plant, which belongs to the parsley family, is in season from September until April, and should be in daily use on the family table. It is one of the best nervines known, is invaluable as a salve, and is of great value in the kitchen, where it may be used in many ways as a flavoring, as a vegetable in soup or as a salad. Every part of a bunch of celery is available in some department of cookery.

For table use, select, firm, white stalks; wash them thoroughly, then scrape them and lay them in water until they are crisp and cold. When ready to serve, dry in a cloth and split the stalks down almost to the bottom, allowing a few of the tender white leaves to remain. Serve in a celery glass or on a dish, with a little salt.

Calery Salad.

The larger stalks may be used for salad, by cutting into pieces three-quarters of an inch long. After cutting measure, and to each pint of calery allow half a pint of mayonnaise dressing. Do not mix the dressing with the calery until ready to serve.

Waldorf Calery Salad.

Waldorf calery is made by using equal parts of calery and dice cut from crisp, spicy apples, covered with a very heavy mayonnaise dressing that will thoroughly mask the calery and apples. This should be served with crackers and cheese, as a separate course at a dinner.

Calery Cream Soup.

A delicious cream soup may be made by mixing one quart of chicken jelly with one quart of rich cream, after both have come to the boil in separate saucepans. Put the jelly to the boil and in it put three or four stalks of calery on an equal number of the coarse stalks. Remove after it has boiled for half an hour and mask through a colander, returning the calery to the stock. When the cream has come to the boil mix into it two even-sized cubes of cheese, well mixed with a tablespoonful of butter until well creamed, then stir it into the cream until it is well thickened, and pour the mixture into the stock. Stir until well mixed, and serve immediately with croutons, which give a flavor that cannot be imparted in any other way, and seems especially necessary to calery soup.

Calery Vinegar.

Calery vinegar is useful for flavoring and may be made of pieces of calery covered with some pure cider vinegar, or the calery seeds may be used. If the seeds are to be used, cover one ounce of calery seeds with one quart of pure cider vinegar, and let it stand two weeks, shaking it over day.

SABBATH QUIET IN THE MINES

Suspension of Work in the Anthracite Region Complete.

140,000 MEN ARE IDLE

WORKMEN PREPARE TO DECIDE THE STRIKE ISSUE.

Delegates Will Be Elected and instructed Monday and Operators Await Convention's Action Without Showing Hands.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 12.—The 45 collieries in the Ninth mining district were completely tied up this morning by the 25,650 employees, excluding bosses, foremen, engineers and pumpmen, enforcing the suspension ordered by the Scranton convention.

Two-thirds of the collieries are in the vicinity of the place, and are owned principally by the Philadelphia & Reading, Pennsylvania and Lehigh Coal companies.

While all of the colliery whites were blown, the men kept away from the operations.

There were no disturbances.

Men were gathered in numerous sections of the district today by their leaders, who will explain all that occurred at the N.Y. and B.R. meeting.

Afterwards the "locals" will meet to elect delegates and instruct them whether to go on or against a strike at the Hazleton convention.

HAZELTON, Pa., May 12.—Mining operations in the portion of the Seventh district are completely suspended today. The whites at many collieries were sounded as the miners went to work, and the miners for the miners to go to work, for none of the companies made an effort to start up their concerns, notwithstanding the fact that the strength of the union was such that the attempt would be futile.

The only class of employees at work are the foremen, engineers, the pump runners, men and clay-stripping hands, who have no coal.

Coal company officials refuse to say whether they will make a move for the resumption of work this evening in favor of the continuation of the strike.

Sunday quietude reigns throughout the district.

TAMAQUA, Pa., May 12.—Of the 700 men employed by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co., in the Panther Creek valley, less than a score reported for duty today.

At the No. 1 breaker, the slate picker, boy, is on duty as usual and the breaker is now cleaning the coal which was mined on Saturday.

During the strike of 1900, the Panther Creek miners maintained at work and, up to the time the Anthracite strike began, the company expressed the belief that a sufficient number of men to operate the coal would be available.

This afternoon the various locals of the United Mine Workers will hold special meetings and elect delegates to attend the Hazelton convention on Monday.

The delegates will be instructed to vote for a strike unless concessions are granted in the meantime.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 12.—From the Panther Creek valley in the extreme east end of the Anthracite field, the miners down valley comes the same story of idleness at all the hundred collieries of obedience to the orders of National President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America.

It is even greater than a Sabbath stillness, for not a man of the organization coming under the suspension order is at work today.

Meetings will be held today and tomorrow in the local districts and the delegates to the Hazelton convention and the expression of opinion at this time is favorable to a strike.

The local officials of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Co. put in an appearance at an unusually early hour this morning, evidently anticipating an emergency.

Nothing of an exciting nature was reported called upon for the augmented force was not called upon for the strike.

READING, Pa., May 12.—The coal shortage is already apparent here. Coal dealers are not to be seen in the streets and they say that they have more orders than they can fill in a month, even with stores running at a loss, and the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Co. transports through this city about 1600 cars of anthracite daily.

This traffic required a large number of engines, all of which will be thrown out of service, and with few exceptions, the crews will be all along the line.

RACING—BASEBALL—TRAP SHOOTING—SPORTING NEWS

ONE GOOD RACE AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Feature Today Will Be the Fourth at a Mile and 70 Yards.

FAIR GROUNDS SELECTIONS.

First race—J. V. Hays, Also Ran II. Second race—Lynch, Royal Athlete. Third race—Our Lady, Nearest. Fourth race—Schwabe, Crimene. Fifth race—Ampere, Wakita. Sixth race—Haviland, Varner.

BY R. D. WALSH.

The program for Monday afternoon's races at the Fair Grounds is made up of six races, varying in length from five and one-half furlongs to a mile and a sixteenth of a mile. The first race will be the fourth race at a mile and seventy yards.

Seven high-class horses are entered in the first race, and the horses already won at the present Fair Grounds meeting, and another has run second and third several times.

It is a long, hard race, and the horses last week, leading from start to finish. In the present instance she seems to be outdistanced.

Our Lady seems to be mud, and as the track will be lightning fast his chances appear to be pretty slim. Wakita is one of the best horses in the race, and even with but 110 pounds cannot be considered. His recent performances have been bad.

Schwabe Should Win the Race.

Maximus, Schwabe and Crimene should put up one of the finest contests seen in a long time. It is difficult to separate them, the horses being of equal weight and equal. Maximus has somewhat the best of the weight and on that account alone deserves consideration.

Bruce took his measure a week ago today and Schwabe defeated Brulare a few days later. On these figures Schwabe should be the favorite to win. The other horse will be asked to carry six pounds more in this afternoon's contest. Is she good enough to do this?

It is a fact she is, but I also think that Schwabe's most dangerous opponent will not be Maximus but Crimene. This fellow has been getting away with his racing for long handily in 1 1/4 miles coming from behind. I do not believe Crimene likes a distance, as well as Schwabe, and for that reason will select Schwabe's mare to win the purse.

Crimene was last in the Cumberland Derby, at a mile and an eighth, and this would indicate that he does not like a route.

First Race.

A Puzzler.

The opening race of the day has the limit of fourteen entered, some of which have no form and some that have not started at all this season. It is a difficult proposition to solve but on last year's form J. V. Hays looks to be the best of the lot. Also Ran II, our Lady, Nearest, and the others. The Charleston meeting, but the class of horses running there were poor specimens of the race horse, and such victories have no significance.

Contest for Three-Year-Olds.

Three-Year-Olds will contest at a mile and a half furlong. The first race, and on last year's form Royal Athlete, and Lynch has been in training for several weeks this year and running on southern tracks, and for that reason is probably in the best condition of any horse in this race.

I will therefore select him to win first, with Royal Athlete in the place. Ten plus a sixteenth of a mile he should have a close finish for show.

There are some fast sprinters in the third race, and also some cheap selling platters, though he does not have a good record. Nearest, Lady, the Grantor, Van Hoorebeek and Our Lady are the only ones that have a chance, and the runner should certainly come from these four.

Nearest and Our Lady have recently rung up some good performances in the first and are in good form. On the latter's recent good form, and on the former's recent good form, I will select her to win, with Nearest second.

Ampere Picked for the Fifth.

A dozen all-age horses will go to the post in the fifth race, and I think Ampere should annex this. Outside of Wakita and Ernack he has very little to beat and the track will be to his liking. He is carrying 100 pounds and can do so easily.

Ernack starts for the first time this season, and her form is unknown, but I must overlook her through the great desire of respect for her capabilities. Halvindale seems to be placed where he might win, and on this evidence I will pick him Saturday with a weight of 100 pounds. He should be the runner-up with only 98 pounds to carry.

A dozen Arab named Nix is entered in the third race, and she only has 98 pounds to carry, but when she wakes up there will be no doubt for the bookies. She has given those worthy gentlemen a good scorching at New Orleans and Chicago. For preference purposes, keep an eye on the lady's performance this afternoon.

WHAT YOU DO, DO IT WELL
This is Important For Health
Building in May.

Thousands of Cures Made by Paine's Celery
Compound
Should Convince You of Its Value.

"What you do, do it well," is the golden rule of business life. This rule and far-reaching common sense can be profitably observed in many other conditions of life. In sickness and suffering it is all-important that "what you do" to banish disease and restore lost health, should be well done. While prudence and common sense will, in nearly every instance, direct you aright, the experience of your friends and neighbors and the thousands rescued from sickness and suffering, will point directly to Paine's Celery Compound as the infallible health giver.

People who think they will get rid of troubles such as rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia and nervous complaints, it is wisest to use Paine's Celery Compound, a medicine that proves its once to make the opposite normal, sleep natural and refreshing the nerves strong, as a foundation for building up health and vigor.

If sick people in May look for a true nerve strengthener, an honest blood purifier, a reliable diuretic, that will restore strength, renew vitality, regulate the kidneys, liver and bowels, they should at once make use of Paine's Celery Compound and note the speedy and pleasing results that flow from its use.

LITTLE GIRLS SAW BURGLARS
When They Told Their Mother, the Daylight Marauders Had Gone
With Booty.

Burglars made a Sunday morning call at the home of Fred J. Blanke, 3109 Eads avenue, while the members of the family were absent, and took with them on the departing purse, containing $75, a fleur-de-lis pocket pistol, a match box and other articles of jewelry.

The money was concealed safely, at the time of the robbery.

The little daughters of Mrs. W. S. Lewis, residing next door, saw the man enter the house by the back door, leave a few minutes later, and did not tell their mother until the man had disappeared.

Mrs. Levy Refused Divorce.

Judge Spencer of division 2 of the circuit court rendered the bill for divorce filed by Henry Levy against William Levy, to whom she was married Nov. 17, 1890. The answer and crossbill of the defendant was filed.

Levy and his wife were married in Kansas City, Kan., and came to St. Louis in November, 1890. They separated shortly after coming here.

Mrs. Levy filed a suit for divorce in St. Louis in the early part of 1902. Evidence at the trial which occurred at St. Louis established the fact that she had filed a similar suit in Kansas City, Kan., claiming that her husband, that she was a resident of that state.

CAR KILLED THIS
BLUE-EYED GIRL

LITTLE MARTHA BECKEBRED
DIED OF INTERNAL INJURIES.

TROLLY FENDER STRUCK HER
She Ran Across Street as Coach Was Bushing Down Hill and Motor-man Could Not Stop It.

Martha Beckebred, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beckebred of 300 North Twenty-fifth street, died Sunday morning from injuries received at 6 o'clock Saturday evening when she was struck down by a car of the Lee avenue division of the street company within a short distance of her home.

The Lee avenue cars, en route to the center of the city, go east on Beale avenue, past Twenty-third street. The yard in the rear of the Beckebred residence opens on Beale avenue, and the children of the neighborhood sometimes play in the street at that point, as well as in the yard and on the sidewalk.

The little girl, a pretty child with light hair and laughing blue eyes, was found in a coffee-cup as she watched her mother operate the coffee-grinder in preparation of the evening meal. Circling around the coffee-cup, she ran into the parlor where her father was reading a newspaper.

"Don't let me, papa," she lisped, as Mr. Beckebred looked at her smilingly.

Mr. Beckebred, who had just caught his but after throwing a longing gaze at her, turned his eyes back to his newspaper.

Martha ran out through the back yard to the sidewalk. A passing wagon had run over a dog, and a crowd of children, viewing the injured animal.

The child was seized with a desire to join her playmates.

She started across the street unmindful of the car that was coming down hill from the west at a good rate. The modern car did not stop to a full stop. But the fender struck the tiny toddler and rolled her over over the ground. Head and neck were causing internal injuries. Medical aid was summoned, but the shock was fatal.

The body will be shipped Wednesday for burial to St. Charles. Mr. Beckebred's former home.

SPICY NOTES WERE PACKED IN SPICES

GIRLS PLACED MATRIMONIAL
MISSIVES IN TAPIOCA.

The latest return from notes which a dozen girls in a Second street wholesale grocery house placed more than a year ago in boxes of cloves, cinnamon and tapioca came with Miss Luisa Haynes of 864 Cool Britannia street, received an acknowledgment through an acquaintance, that one of them had been read by Louis Flach, an Alten, Ill., grocer.

Flach found his note in a box of tapioca. It contained the name and address of Miss Haynes, and said that she would like to correspond with some of the girls, whom he would like to link together.

The first girl kept up the correspondence for several months, and exchanged photographs with the man, but it didn't come to anything after all, and he had stopped writing a few days from a man in Texas.

He showed the other girl her letter, and the rest of us thought it would be fun to try the same thing. So we wrote notes and put them in the boxes, and some put them in boxes, and then we had the big wholesale packages that the men would handle.

The first girl kept up the correspondence for several months, and exchanged photographs with the man, but it didn't come to anything after all, and he had stopped writing a few days from a man in Texas.

"Most of the other girls got answers, but this girl did not, and then he stopped writing to me.

"One man in Dallas, Tex., an undertaker, called on me once, when I was in the city, and another man, also from Texas, sent me a letter, but I never kept up the correspondence.

"I wouldn't like to form an acquaintance that way except just as a joke. I don't think any of the girls really seem to care for me, but I am engaged at the time, and wrote the notes only because the rest of the girls did.

Hawley is now employed at Fornes & Co.'s establishment, at 511 North Second street, from which the spires bearing the name of the firm are visible.

ONE OF THE FINEST HOUSES BEING ERECTED AT THE PRESENT TIME IN ST. LOUIS IS THE HOME OF JOHN W. HARRISON, KINGSBURY PLACE.

The house is designed in the modern French renaissance, which is now the vogue in New York, and entirely different from any other St. Louis home.

The exterior of a rich dark gray brick and old ivory terra cotta, a conspicuous feature being the beautiful entrance shaded by a stately Doric portico. The architraves and trimmings of the windows are beautiful in proportion and exquisitely carved.

The plumbing is designed along the most advanced lines of sanitary building work, and is handsomely and beautifully wrought arabesques.

The building will be carried at the second-story line, and the building will have a French pitch roof.

The interior is divided into drawing room and library and dining room on right of the main hall. The parlor floor is finished in elegant hardwoods, with tall wainscoting and beam ceilings. The kitchen and culinary departments have roomy and spacious apartments and are convenient in all particular.

The second story is subdivided into bed chambers, with private baths in connection.

The third story comprises guests' chambers and the rooms.

The house is finished throughout in the highest character of modern work, including the latest conveniences, including telephone and electrical services.
